

Increased Health and Sanitation paired with Convenient Control

COVID-19 is reshaping the way we as a society view our daily interactions, both person-to-person and with shared devices and surfaces. Self-service kiosks are looking to be a frontrunner solution for many industries as long as they can adhere to the sanitation standards being put in place by both corporations and government agencies.

KioTouch is the all-in-one solution to meet those standards.

KioTouch works by providing kiosk navigation at the user's fingertips via their personal mobile device, providing a smooth and sanitary experience.
